MALDON & DISTRICT u3a UKULELE GROUP

A new group at Maldon & District u3a is going great guns.

Steve Collis, a keen guitar and ukulele player, decided in November 2025 to try and start a new group of like minded members. With the aid of his brother from Braintree u3a, they started meeting in Steve's home and very quickly the number of members increased and they had to look for larger premises. They now meet twice a month at the West Maldon Community Centre and have an active group membership of 18 players. Still growing, they will be entertaining us at our August monthly meeting.

They work on new material while also playing their favourite songs, with each person choosing the songs they would like to play from their growing playlist. It's all about having fun, laughing and making music.

HULLBRIDGE u3a WINE GROUP - better late than never!

There are those of us who think that Christmas events might be even better if they could be spread throughout the year. Members of the Wine Group 1 from Hullbridge u3a, put this into practice, celebrating a belated Christmas meal at a local Italian restaurant.

Hullbridge u3a has two wine groups, and we can see why they are popular.

Joan Williams, Secretary Hullbridge U3A

If you have a u3a group that has recently started or done something out of the ordinary, please tell us and include a photograph. (Make sure subjects give consent.) Send to Laurene Henderson: Email laurenehenderson1.east.u3a@outlook.com

Visit to Spencer House & St James Place on 9th March 2026

We were welcomed into Spencer House by our guide who explained the history of this widely admired London home.

John Spencer acquired a lease on a plot in St James Place in 1755 and construction of Spencer House began the following spring. Work was completed in 1766. Over the years it has been home to many organisations with consequent alterations.

In November 1990 the newly restored Spencer House was opened by Diana, Princess of Wales, a direct descendant of the First Lord and Lady Spencer. Today this magnificent house is maintained with funds from rented offices, functions and guided tours.

After lunch, we went to Westminster Cathedral, the largest Catholic Church in England and Wales.

It is the seat of the Archbishop of Westminster. Construction took place from 1895 to 1903. The cathedral's distinctive striped brick design was much admired by Sir John Betjeman. It received Apostolic visits from Pope

John Paul II on 28 May 1982 and from Pope Benedict XVI on 18 September 2010.

Thank you to Carol and Paul Ogden for organising a very interesting day out in great company.

Chelmsford u3a Rock & Pop Music Appreciation Group's Joyful Start

In our February bulletin we shared news of Chelmsford u3a's inspirational new Rock and Pop Music Group. We can now report that the group continues to thrive and has quickly become a warm, lively space where members explore music, share memories, and enjoy each other's company.

Bruce Knight explains that each session is built around a simple theme, and every member contributes one or two song choices.

To everyone's amusement, the chosen theme for the group's 3rd meeting was: "Songs To Be Played At My Funeral." The more we thought about it, the more creative and thoughtful the suggestions became — even if "Going Underground" by The Jam pushed the boundaries of taste just a little! We ended up with a wonderfully varied and heartfelt playlist. The session opened with John Lennon's Imagine, after which each member said a few words about why they had chosen their song. Other examples included Elton John's "Funeral For A Friend"; "Enjoy Yourself" by The Specials; "Should I Stay or Should I Go?" By the Clash; and "Turn! Turn! Turn!" by The Byrds.

One especially touching moment came with George Ezra's Green, Green Grass. Its nominator shared that she hoped her grandchildren would be dancing in the kitchen during the post funeral gathering — and if you know the song, you'll understand why it brought both smiles and misty eyes.

Then, unexpectedly, came The Laughing Policeman by Charles Penrose. The story behind the choice was moving: Tommy Cannon once presented a documentary about his late comedy partner Bobby Ball, who in his final days told friends, "Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened." That spirit certainly resonated with the group.

Then Jeannie's contribution of Jerry Lee Lewis's Great Balls of Fire raised the decibel counter and mood. We closed with Andrea Bocelli's beautiful "Time to Say Goodbye". It proved to be a session filled with music, reflection, laughter, and new friendships — everything the members hoped the group would offer.

Bruce said "It's wonderful to see everyone coming together, enjoying the process of creating this new group, and bonding over our shared passion for music. We're fortunate to have such a positive, creative, and like-minded group, united by music that not only inspires us but also brings back cherished memories. I'm already looking forward to our April session and the wide variety of music it will bring."

For any u3a considering a similar group, it really does take very little effort: choose a theme, invite members to suggest songs, and create space for stories and conversation.

The joy, connection, and memories follow naturally.

Lesley Wood, Chelmsford u3a

Council Representative Elections

Following on from my March Bulletin Notes regarding the Election of a 2nd Council Representative for the East of England, I am pleased to announce that Ruth Freedman has been elected as the second Council representative for the East of England. I wish Ruth much success in her role and I look forward to working with her in the region.

Ruth Freedman

I would like to thank Jeanne Sole for putting herself forward as a candidate and wish her well for the rest of her u3a journey.

Forum Meetings

I have already commenced my forum meetings with u3as from Beds, Cambs, Suffolk and Norfolk. I will shortly be including Herts and Essex in those forums. I will be copying minutes from our Council meetings which will show the region what the council does and what they have achieved.

Recent Survey

I hope region u3as took part in the recent survey. Once results are to hand they will be circulated.

AI - What's all the Fuss About? 22.4.26

I am organising an AI presentation entitled AI - What's all the Fuss About? for the 22nd April. Details of this event are published in this issue (page 5). Registration opens on 1st April.

Here to Help

Finally, I am here to assist with any issues arising with u3as the region. I have been recently dealing with constitution, committee structure and general advice.

If the need arises my contact details are below. I am also available for u3a visits. So, if any u3a would like me to attend any committee or AGM meetings please let me know.

Best Regards,

Ian Mathews
